

OMAHA UNIVERSITY AWARDS STUDENTS 137 SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholes and Gittlin Honored; Miller Receives Award

One hundred and thirty-seven students recently received scholarships to the University of Omaha for the fall semester, according to Dr. Edgar A. Holt, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Kenneth Scholes, '39, was awarded the Joseph Barker, Sr., scholarship, established by Joseph Barker, Jr., in memory of his father. Ida Gittlin, '39, won the Dr. S. K. Spalding scholarship, donated by Mrs. Spalding. The Ware scholarship, established by Alice R. Ware in memory of her brother and sister, was awarded to John Miller, Jr., '39. These three scholarships are granted on the basis of previous scholastic achievement and future promise.

Twenty junior-senior scholarships, awarded to upper classmen showing "prospects as a useful member of the University and general community," were granted to Lillian E. Anderson, '38; Laura Buckland, '37; Rose M. Chalupsky, '38; Anna Goodbinder, '38; Verona Jerabek, '38; Thelma L. Kristenson, '37; Ermagrace Reilly, '37; Amy Rohacek, '37; Frances Wirts Savage, '38.

Glen Blackstone, '38; Melvin Brock, '38; Frank Crawford, '37; Loren Gammon, '37; Harold Johnk, '37; Verner Parrish, '37; Glenn Scudder, '38; Norman Sorensen, '37; Earl F. Strohbehn, '38; and Fred L. Tyler, '37.

Early Count Shows Gain In Registration

The registration at the University of Omaha for the fall term totalled 578 by noon Tuesday, September 15, 1936. Although the days for registering were September 10, 11, and 12, students continue to enroll. The total of last Tuesday, which is not final, already exceeds the complete enrollment of the first semester of last year, which was 560.

Over 200 have matriculated for the first time this fall. Central and North high schools in Omaha sent more than 100 freshmen. Approximately 45 of the new matriculants have attended school out-of-town, many of which were from Council Bluffs.

A new plan for registering was tried this fall. Students were sent tickets which designated the time they were to register. This eliminated some of the long lines and confusion, characteristic of former registration days.

The number of boys and girls are quite evenly divided.

GATEWAY MEETING

A short meeting of The Gateway staff will be held in The Gateway office Tuesday, September 22, at noon. Any student interested in working on The Gateway should be present as several positions are open.

An Open Letter To Student Body

September 18, 1936

To the Students of The Municipal University of Omaha:

There is one thing which I wish to say the same this year as last, namely, that I appreciate the opportunity which The Gateway gives me to send a greeting to the student body. With most of you I suppose my contact is covered by a nodding acquaintance in the halls and around the campus, but I want each of you to know that I am genuinely interested in what you are doing and what you are planning to make of yourself after leaving college.

Perhaps some of you are beginning to see the next development in University policy. We are trying to build on the fine work which has gone before and are trying to see how college work can be made more and more helpful to those who come to the University of Omaha. The revision of the curriculum, which took place before I came here, the work-study plan, which is now getting under way and which I believe will appeal to more and more students; even the matter of Freshmen Days, which we tried this year for the first time at this institution, are all illustrations of the attempt to make college life more worth while.

With best wishes for the year that is opening, I am

Sincerely yours,

Rowland Haynes

School Library Acquires Books

Added to the library during the summer months were 1,090 new books, of which 525, or 48.2 per cent were in natural and social sciences.

Natural science books purchased number 185 while 340 books were added to the social science group, including education.

The remaining books, numbering 565, were classified in various fields as follows: General works, 8; psychology and philosophy, 32; religion, 7; philology, 9; engineering and useful arts, 103; fine arts, 86; literature, 179; travel, 6; biography, 40; and history, 45.

The library's previous holdings were strongest in the fields of the social sciences, natural sciences, and the various literatures. Proportions shown above in the recent book selections are the natural results of demands of the curriculum and courses of study offered at the University.

Of 63 books in the foreign languages, eight were in Spanish, nine in French and forty-six in German. These are classified under the general headings of literature, art, history, political science, mathematics and journalism.

Approximately 200 books ordered have not yet arrived, by reason of being out of print, out of stock, or ordered from foreign countries.

Laura Johnson Reads to N. E. A.

Mrs. Laura M. Johnson, instructor in English at Municipal University, read a paper before the National Council of Teachers of English at the N. E. A. convention at Portland, Oregon, this summer.

Mrs. Johnson's topic was "Evaluation of Radio as a Unit of Education." The topic was treated from the stand-point of the high school student.

Among other guest speakers was Mr. Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President of the United States.

Ten rushees will be the guests of Alpha Gamma Chi at the home of Janet Graetz, Friday, with Florence Steinberg in charge.

Announce Student Football Trip To Sioux City Game

Increasing the temperature of the football thermometer in the main hall to 100 degrees in the personages of 100 loyal Muni U students for the Omaha U-Morningside night game, is the goal of the Feathers, sponsors of the trip to Sioux City, Saturday, September 28.

By noon Wednesday twenty students had signed their intention to take the trip. Chartered Interstate Buses will leave Saturday afternoon from 24th and Pratt Streets. The group will leave Sioux City immediately after the game, Saturday night. Cost of the round trip will be $2.20.

Ruth Grenville, president of the Feathers, is in charge of all arrangements.

Many Students On Part-Time Jobs

According to Mr. J. E. Woods, director of the Omaha Work-Study plan, more than eighty part-time jobs have been provided for students attending the University.

"Many jobs," he stated, "have been lost because of the student's failure to report back to the University in case he did not take the position."

He urged that in the future all students report to him their success or failure in securing the positions.

Orchesis Group Asked To Show Dance Numbers

The Omaha University Orchesis group has been invited to demonstrate dancing technique and several original numbers before the South Dakota Physical Education association in November. Miss Ruth Diamond will lecture on the fundamentals of dancing as the group demonstrates.

The convention will be held at the Northern Normal and Industrial School at Aberdeen, South Dakota.

Practices are to start immediately and Miss Diamond requests all girls interested to see her.

Freshmen Take Entrance Exams

41 Exempt from English;
Sick Highest in German;
47 Take Chemistry Test

Approximately 250 freshmen gathered at Omaha University last week to pit their intelligence against the entrance examinations administered by various department heads.

Of those taking the English Examination, only 41 were excused from English composition. The highest ten ranking in the order named, were Esther Klaerman, Adeline Speckter, Hannah Baum, Richard Osterholm, Pat Lynch, Ruth Buckland, Maurice Klain, Ellen Smith, Bob Novak and Pauline Rosenbaum.

The psychology examinations have not yet been completely graded. Lloyd Bradfield, psychology instructor, commented that the group did very well as a whole.

Kurt Sick made the highest score, 206, in the German tests. Of the twelve taking the test, four passed, the others being Louise Volker, Leah Glas and Maude Bloomer.

Richard Gates and Mary Ann Stuart were the only ones who succeeded in passing the Spanish exam out of a field of 14.

Seven, or half the entries, emerged victorious in the Latin quiz. Those receiving passing grades were Bob Anthes, Marjorie Disbrow, Marguerite Edquist, Virginia Grant, Stuart Jones, George Unruh, and Dorothy Wiprecht.

Rebecca Smith led the group of 19 who took the test in French. Hannah Baum, Joan Benson, Ruth Finer and Elizabeth Johannaber were the others who passed.

Forty-seven took the Iowa Placement Examination for Chemistry Training, with thirty-three passing. The highest grade was made by Sterling Paris. James Martin placed second and Paul Rink, third.

Pi O., Alpha Sig Highest Ranking In Scholastics

Pi Omega Pi sorority, with an average of .8355, and Alpha Sigma Lambda fraternity, with .7845, led Greek organizations in scholastic ranking for last semester.

Kathryn Johnson, Sigma Chi Omicron, had the highest average among the women with 93, followed by Beth Campbell, Sigma Chi Omicron, and Ruth Behrmann, Pi Omega Pi, both with 92½.

Vincent Nelson, Phi Sigma Phi, averaged 90, to lead the men, while Keith Maxwell, Alpha Sigma Lambda, was second with 89.

Comparative ratings of sororities and fraternities are as follows:

APPOINT SIX NEW PROFESSORS; TWO TEACHERS RETURN

Dawson, Boeninger,
Crane, Morehouse,
Huffman Arrive

Dr. Witman Back

Changes in the University faculty for the year include the appearance of six new professors and the return of two instructors who have been on leave of absence.

Roderick B. Crane, assistant instructor in engineering, to succeed J. W. Jackson, who resigned to become Superintendent of the Nebraska School for the Deaf, received his B. S. degree in mechanical engineering at Cornell and passed a year at the graduate school of business administration at Harvard University. He has since been active in real estate operations.

Teaches Chemistry

Dr. Lyle R. Dawson, professor of physics and chemistry, earned his master's degree at the University of Illinois and Ph. D. at the University of Iowa. He was an instructor in the chemistry department at State Teachers' college, Eau Claire, Wisconsin, last year.

Neal F. Morehouse, assistant instructor in zoology and anatomy, replacing Russell Derbyshire, who has a leave of absence this year, received an M. S. degree at Iowa State college and is now working on his Ph. D. degree.

W. A. A. Planning Tea For Women

The Women's Athletic Association is planning a tea in honor of the freshmen women, to be held Wednesday, September 23, from three to five o'clock.

The committee in charge is composed of Phyllis Knudsen, Helen Saltares, Eloise Johnson and Dolly Obradovich. All women students of the University are invited to attend.

Add New Courses In Night School

Several new courses have been added to the curriculum of the extension division this year. They are as follows:

School Library Service—Mr. Leon Smith; Practical Methods in Music Education—Mr. Davis; Directing Learning in the Elementary School—Mr. Cross; Secondary School Instructional Procedures—Dr. L. O. Taylor; Principles of Adult Education—Mr. E. M. Hosman; Reporting and News Writing—Mr. Russell Peters; Geography of Europe—Dr. Rigdon; Introduction to Social Work—Mr. Tietz; General Outline of the History of Art—Mr. Paul Grummann; Current Affairs—Mr. Dayton E. Heckman; Creative Writing—Mr. A. M. Johnson; The Preparation of Club Papers—Mrs. Wilfred Payne; P. T. A. Organization and Administration—Mrs. Nelsen.

R. O. T. C. ?

"Give Municipal 'U' a Chance, Too." An editorial appearing recently in a downtown newspaper, recommended the establishment of a R. O. T. C. unit at the University. We agree. Omaha U. does deserve a chance—for some degree of self determination on the matter. The regents, faculty and students as well as the citizens of Omaha should have a voice in the matter.

It must be remembered that Omaha U. students do have an opportunity for military training and many of them are taking advantage of it. Students are well represented in the ranks of the National Guard and many of them feel that the training is much better than that received by R. O. T. C. units. One of the biggest "bug-bears" that a National Guardsman has to endure is the "Shave-tail" from an R. O. T. C. camp.

If a definite campaign to establish a R. O. T. C. unit here is made, it should be done on a factual, common-sense basis. Building better bodies, minds and Americanism is hardly the purpose of the R. O. T. C.

Three hours a week in a well-equipped gymnasium will do much more for developing the body than marching around three hours a week with a gun on your shoulder; as for Americanism, that is something for political campaigns.

Before anything is done, however, someone should find out the answer to the strong sentiment against the R. O. T. C. at our state university.

University Freshman

The problem of adjustment is one that constantly confronts us all. We no sooner become settled and at ease with a given set of conditions that affect us than we are uprooted and thrown into a maelstrom of unfamiliar surroundings and strange people.

Freshmen at the University of Omaha are now facing such a situation. Unfortunately, there is no fixed procedure whereby the mysteries of university life can be laid open to the student fresh from high school. Tolerance, willingness, common sense, and, above all, self-reliance, are helpful virtues. Your professors and fellow-students are ready to aid you in making this transition; but to fit yourself successfully into the ways of college life, you must develop to the utmost your self-reliance.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

SUICIDE—A belated acquiescence in the opinion of one's wife's relatives.

SURGEON—One bribed heavily by the patient to take the blame for the family doctor's error in diagnosis.

THEOLOGY—An effort to explain the unknowable by putting it in terms of the not worth knowing.

TOMBSTONE—An ugly reminder of those who have been forgotten.

VERS LIBRE—A device for making poetry easier to write and harder to read.

Thru the Keyhole

Happy days are here again, and fresh-freshies are seen running hither and yon about the campus, pursued by fraternity and sorority members who are overly anxious to throw the usual amount of bull about their various organizations....The Pi O's, as usual, have taken over the Hash House for the coming semester, and have already begun to teach their future pledges their mosquito dance or whatever you want to call it.

Ed Kersenbrock and George Threadgill have discovered a new way of working their way through college....They are now peddling stickers for your notebooks...."Casanova" Kersenbrock appears to be lost since Maxine Mills and Elaine Coulter have failed to return to school....Watch out, you freshmen beauties, for Ed is not only a heartbreaker, but also a football flash!

Speaking of football flashes reminds us of the rumor about "Tippy" Tyler and Norma Lohrman....We wonder....Ardith Hudson is also wearing a diamond.

In case anyone hasn't heard, there are three ways of communicating around school....Telephone....Telegraph....Or tell Lil Anderson....For more information, please ask at The Gateway office.

Don Belau, as usual, is abreast of the times....His latest heart-throb is a little blonde fresh-freshie by the name of Betty Furness.

Warren Novak is with us again....He must think he is in Russia on the five-year plan....Or is it six?

Anyone who hasn't an Alpha Sig rush card, kindly look up Beefy Maxwell....He's only signed up 25 all by his little self.

Bob Lehmer would like to have a little conference with the dozen or so fellows that tossed his car up on the sidewalk the other day....Just in case they pledge Theta.

Carson Rogers is now listed among the married men of the campus....She's even got his pin chained on so he'll never be able to get it off....Nice going, Helen.

Landis has the right idea for keeping cool during the hot summer months....He bought himself a second-hand car that lacks nothing but running water and a barber-shop, and is going to install a refrigerator to keep his bottled beverages cool.

That's all for this time, folks....Give us a week to really dig up the dirt on some of you freshmen, and they'll probably forget to print the paper....See you next week....Don't forget the Pan-Hel Dance October 2.

Pairi-Mutual

By MAURICE KLAIN

Whether or not the students of Omaha University are any more musically inclined than those of other similar institutions is a matter for discussion; but the symphony of chimes, church bells and wedding bells lured many a happy (or hapless) coed and collegian from Muni during the past summer.

John Pearson had ears for only one belle; and like the ill-fated seafarers who succumbed to the lyrics of the Sirens, Johnny, intrepid soul, fell hard. He ambled the well-trodden center aisle with Irene Scott.

Kenneth Turner is another of the lads who will never say "never again" again. He relinquished his "rights of man" when he said "I do" and Betty Sellner seconded the motion.

Kenneth Slump may wear the pants in his household, but there's a ball and chain around the ankle. His Missus is the former Ruth Wigton. The Bob Johnsons (she used to be Maxine Steincamp) are also living on a diet of love. Things will probably run smoothly until she wants an ermine wrap to keep his supper warm.

Now that they're wooed and wed (not yet wept), Dorothy Hunting meets Edward Zeman at the gate with a big hug and kiss. Warren Shoecraft grabbed Bess Greer to fry his eggs and bacon while, not to be outdone, Fay Lane and Jack Gale are billing and cooling it together. Fay coos at Jack, and Jack pays all the bills.

Even the sophisticated alumni were susceptible to the amorous darts of Cupid. Listed among the casualties are Lloyd Patterson and Virginia Boucher, Danny Mackin and Doris Coonley, and Alice Fechner and Art Johnson.

Yes, it is a curious phenomenon that the lullaby of wedding bells so soon is drowned by the dissonance of a rattling ball and chain.

CELEBRITY—One who is known to many persons he is glad he doesn't know.

EVIL—That which one believes of others. It is a sin to believe evil of others, but it is seldom a mistake.

IMMORALITY—The morality of those who are having a better time.

THE MAIL BOX

Dear Folks:

I'm having a perfectly grand time. What with rush parties, registration and getting settled, I haven't had time to breathe. The rush parties are lovely and the girls are swell. The sororities will do almost anything for you. They spend hours putting their best foot forward. You're picked up in elegant cars for every party and altogether are treated right royally. But from what I hear, many and great are the changes which take place after you become a pledge. There seems to be nothing you can't do for the dear sorority sisters, i. e., carry books, sharpen pencils and even propose to professors for the sole amusement of said sisters.

The teachers are nice and are quite willing to help, thank heavens! The day of registration I optimistically expected to be through with such minor details in about fifteen minutes. Three hours later I dropped wearily on the grass (that's one part of the campus you can't find much fault with) and yearned for my "trundle-bed." You fill out more cards with a complete life history than I care to remember. At least there's one advantage to their method of registration; you've met everyone on the campus before you're through.

The President and a number of the professors gave short (?) talks to the freshmen. They cleared up a lot of creased foreheads by explaining the catalogue. One professor drove about one hundred girls from his class by informing them they would have to dissect a white rat. (I don't think the boys liked the idea so well either.) It has also gotten around that the assistant art instructor isn't to be sneezed at, and registrations in art are steadily increasing.

I'm getting sleepy, so I'll close. Write soon.

Love,
FRESHY.

Feathers Club Elects Officers

Feathers, the women's active pep organization on the campus, have elected as their officers for the coming year Ruth Grenville, Barb representative, president; Lillian Damask, Sigma Chi Omicron, vice-president; and Ardith Hudson, Kappa Psi Delta, secretary. A treasurer has not yet been elected.

Officers of the organization are looking forward to a very active year on the campus. The official costume has been completed with the purchase of the official emblem, an "O" with a feather placed diagonally through it, made of cardinal felt mounted on black felt.

CARDINALS OUT TO BEAT BISONS

Football Eleven At Fargo Game Today In Good Condition

Omaha will be among the leaders getting their first taste of the gridiron when they meet the strong North Dakota State team at Fargo today. Although the Bisons lost nine lettermen last June they still appear to be the team to beat for the conference championship.

The Cards, however, have wasted no time in getting in shape for this contest, holding three-hour workouts every day except Sundays since the first of September. The complete roster now numbers twenty-two men, including twelve lettermen. The squad has been slow in getting organized, hampered by the loss of seven good prospects. Morrie Loder, Omaha's famous punter, has turned to his wife and offspring; Clifford Anderson, halfback, chose employment rather than school; the three Hawaiians, Rieman, Harper and Kaaua, are scattered in different schools on the west coast; Bob Mason, a promising sophomore halfback, received an appointment to Annapolis, and Paul Blunt, a contender for regular tackle berth, resigned school.

However, Coaches Baker and Hartman have polished up a scrappy eleven which will give any conference team a run for their money. Despite the warm weather, the Red Birds have been blocking, tackling, running plays and scrimmaging in winning form. The loss of Melvin Boldenow, who is nursing an infected arm, will place a big dent in the backfield; and the graduation of Leo Pearey causes more grief in the aerial attack which was so successful last year.

As for weight, the Cards are well supplied, with the squad averaging 185 lbs., the team 190, and the line, 195.

The coaches will probably start such a combination as Kersensbrock and Sorenson at ends, Gardner and LaMantia at tackles, Riggins and Crawford at guards, Johnk at center, Kulper and Frink at halves, Brown at full, and Tyler at quarter. This outfit includes eight lettermen who have faced the Bisons before.

This game is a very important factor in the remaining games of the season. If the Cards can gain revenge for the 20 to 6 licking they were given last year, it is likely that they will be the chief threat for the conference title.

Coach Casey Finnigan, the Bison coach, has lost all of his varsity ends, as well as Quarterback Neville Reiners, Halfback Harold Schnartz, and Captain Sam Dovernitz. He has built his team around ten returning lettermen and a good

IT'S IN THE CARDS

By GEORGE THREADGILL

Today several teams over the country will inaugurate the 1936 football season, and Omaha U will be one of the leaders when they meet North Dakota State, champions of The North Central Conference last season. Omaha's hopes for winning this game appeared very dim during the first week of practice when a small squad of 14 prospects answered Coaches Baker's and Hartman's call. But since that time the squad has increased to 22, including 12 lettermen. The outfit is small, but is mighty scrappy, and packs plenty of weight. You can expect anything to happen in the Northland today.

Things haven't been so rosy for Coach Casey Finnigan up at Fargo, for he lost nine lettermen, which is enough to make any coach drop his head. However, with ten lettermen returning, the Bisons will be a tough outfit to beat.

The first grid casualty came just the other night when Riggins and Gammon collided during signal drill. Both of these boys are guards and on one of the plays when the guards led the play, one of them ran the wrong way. Result: Riggins, four stitches on his forehead; Gammon, two stitches in the same place.

The student promoters are trying to arrange for special train to Sioux City for the Morningside game Saturday night, September 26. Something like this adds extra spirit to the football team when they know the school is out there pulling for them. Those who made the trip to Vermillion last year will never regret it. We hope we have even a larger group sign up for the Sioux City trip.

crop of sophomores. The Bisons will be out to defend their title, but are due for an upset and Omaha should be the team to do it.

The Omaha Cards left early yesterday morning by train and are expected back in Omaha Saturday night.

Tea Dances and Smokers Are Popular This Week

The Greeks have a word for it. RUSH WEEK!! It's here!

Phi Delta Psi started the ball rolling with a supper dance for 25 rushees at the Blackstone hotel, Monday evening, with Carol Wigton in charge of arrangements. A dinner was given at the home of Bernice Dorhse, Thursday.

Kappa Psi Delta entertained 15 rushees at a formal tea, Wednesday at the home of Helen Weinsel; and a theatre party, Friday, with a party at Dixon's afterward, with Marjorie Williams, rush chairman, doing the honors.

Mary Alice Nelson, rush chairman, was in charge of arrangements for a supper dance given for 20 rushees by Pi Omega Pi, Tuesday, and a party at Inspiration Lodge, Thursday.

At the home of Virginia Wilson, Wednesday, Gamma Sigma Omicron sponsors a party for ten rushees with Elizabeth Bostwick, rush chairman, in charge of arrangements. A dinner will also be given at the Blackstone Friday.

A progressive dinner at Aquila Court and at the home of Olive Wrightson was given by Sigma Chi Omicron for 20 rushees. Friday there will be a rose tea at the Women's Club.

The fraternities started off this old Greek custom with Phi Sigma Phi host to 50 rushees at the Elks' Club Wednesday and at a smoker Saturday at Joseph Barker's home with Charles Mangan as rush chairman.

A party at the Blackstone Thursday with Pete Larson, rush chairman, as host, was given for 35 rushees by Alpha Sigma Lambda, and there will be another at the home of John Burke Saturday.

Theta Phi Delta sponsored a party for 35 rushees at the Sparling Rock Gardens Tuesday and a smoker will be held Saturday at the home of Merle Mennie. Carson Rogers, rush chairman, is in charge of arrangements.
